

Got it covered

Keep your aggregates dry

30% of the energy in an asphalt plant goes on removing water from the material; keeping it dry requires less energy from the burner. Take material from the top of the pile, cover fine materials, work with suppliers to deliver dryer products... and you can reduce your site's energy consumption by 15%.

Is there any moisture in your materials?

Making business sense of climate change